Hello again everyone, we hope you are all well. As you are aware we are busy preparing our school sites to enable us to very gradually increase pupil numbers across our schools to a maximum of around 40. We have conducted comprehensive risk assessments to agree this. Our children and staff will be operating in PODS or 'Bubbles' from next week with each POD being a small self contained unit that operates independently from the others. Staff and children will not 'cross over' and any people who need to interact with more than one POD (eg our school nurse) will have very clear health and safety protocols that they are following. Any increase in pupil numbers will be on a needs led basis, nothing to do with age or year groups. Special schools are not being asked to focus on children's ages—individual needs are the highest priority. We will continue to contact you at least weekly and any families of new children joining us will have had conversations with senior staff first. All this of course depends on capacity and staffing. There is no 'requirement' for your child to come to school if things are working well at home and you prefer not to take the risk.

ROUND UP OF THE WEEK—We've had some great photos from you again this week! Please also see all the photos on our websites they are really fantastic
